-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communications: Application filed on 12/08/2003

Claim Objection

Claims 3, 8, 10, 12, 13 and 14 are objected to. The word “meta” should be removed. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mikhailov et al. (Pat No. 6, 968500) hereinafter “Mikhailov”

For claim 1 Mikhailov teaches “a client device configured to receive user input and provide a user interface to a user”([Col. 9, lines 59-67, fig. 2&3])

“a database for storing objects and metadata of the object model”([Col.3, lines 19-52, Col. 4, lines 4-36, Col. 5, lines 19-38, Col. 6, lines 44-59, fig. 1&7A])

Art Unit: 2168

“a configuration management module for creating a deployable collection of objects” ([Col. 5, lines 19-38])

“a validation engine for validating metadata in the database, wherein said
9 validation engine is configured to perform completeness validation on a validation subject in response to a user entered command to perform validation on the subject, to automatically perform correctness validation on a validation subject when the subject is created or updated, and to automatically perform completeness and correctness validation on a validation subject when requested by the configuration management module” ([Col.5, lines 39-54, Col. 15, lines 8-58 and fig. 10])

For claim 2, Mikhailov teaches “wherein a validation subject is an instance of one of an attribute, an association, an object and a collection of objects” ([Col. 1, lines 1-31])

For claim 3, Mikhailov teaches “wherein a validation subject is a meta metadata object selected from the group consisting of a MetaAttribute, a MetaAssociation, a MetaAssociationEnd, a MetaClass and a MetaCollection”([Col. 5, lines 39-54, Col. 14, lines 62-64])

For claim 4, Mikhailov teaches “wherein completeness validation includes the application of a completeness validation rule to the validation subject”([Col. 5, lines 39-54, Col. 14, lines 27-46, Col. 15, lines 14-21])

Art Unit: 2168

For claim 5, Mikhailov teaches “wherein correctness validation includes the application of a correctness validation rule to the validation subject” ([Col. 15, lines 14-21])

For claim 6, Mikhailov teaches “wherein the validation subject is a deployable collection of objects from the database” ([Col.5, lines 39-54, Col. 9, lines 43-58])

For claim 7, Mikhailov teaches “wherein the validation subject is an aggregated collection of objects from the database”([Col.5, lines 39-54, Col. 9, lines 43-58])

For claim 8, Mikhailov teaches “creating an instance of a metadata object in response to user input” ([Col. 5, lines 19-38]);

“automatically applying one or more correctness type validation rules to the object instance”([Col. 5, lines 39-54, Col. 14, lines 27-46, Col. 15, lines 14-21])

“if a user selects validation of the object instance, applying one or more completeness validation rules to the object instance”([Col. 5, lines 39-54])

“automatically applying both the one or more correctness validation rules and the one or more completeness validation rules to the object instance prior to deployment of the object instance” ([Col. 5, lines 39-54, Col. 14, lines 27-46, Col. 15, lines 14-21])

For claim 9, this claim is rejected on grounds corresponding to the arguments given above for rejecting claim 2 and is similarly rejected.

For claim 10, Mikhailov teaches “The method of claim 8, wherein the metadata object is an association and wherein the object instance to which a validation rule is applied includes the two objects associated by the association” ([Col. 1, lines 1-31, Col. 5, lines 39-54, Col. 14, lines 62-64])

For claim 11, Mikhailov teaches “ further including automatically applying the one or more correctness type validation rules to the instance if the instance is automatically updated or manually updated” ([Col. 10, lines 29-57])

For claim 12, this claim is rejected on grounds corresponding to the arguments given above for rejecting claim 2 and is similarly rejected.

For claim 13, this claim is rejected on grounds corresponding to the arguments given above for rejecting claim 7 and is similarly rejected.

For claim 14, this claim is rejected on grounds corresponding to the arguments given above for rejecting claim 8 and is similarly rejected.
